Sue Liebel hails from Indianapolis, Indiana where she has worked for 30 years in policy development, lobbying, and political strategy.

Sue serves as the State Director for Susan B. Anthony List. As states prepare for the end of Roe v. Wade, Sue works with pro-life lawmakers and advocates in state legislatures across the country to advance pro-life laws and programs to help women, children and families.

Sue also serves as the Coordinator of Susan B. Anthony List's National Pro-Life Women's Caucus, which seeks to advance women lawmakers who are dedicated to ending abortion by passing laws that save lives. The Women's Caucus equips state elected women across the country with policy, legal and communications tools.

For over a decade in her home state of Indiana, Sue was the Vice President for Public Affairs for Indiana Right to Life, a statewide pro-life advocacy organization, where she developed policy and lobbying strategies and served as its media spokesperson on issues of human life.

Previously, Sue served as the Communications Director for the Indiana Professional Licensing Agency. She served the Indiana Family Institute by overseeing its Hoosier Congressional Policy Leadership Series, a leadership program aimed at training conservatives for community service and policy leadership initiatives. She also coordinated its program to provide marriage and relationship education programs, for which she is also a facilitator, primarily in prisons.

Specializing in planning and management, Sue has a master's degree in Social Work from Indiana University.

Most importantly, however, Sue pledges her life's work to her Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.
