

Dr. James McKinney

Bio

Dr. James McKinney (pen name) was born and raised in poverty under two God-fearing Christian parents. He is a first-generation college student. He was the first male to receive his bachelor's degree. He holds a bachelor's degree in Organizational Management, master's in healthcare administration, doctorate in Business Administration, and recently completed his second doctorate in adult education and training.

Dr. J was working as a director in corporate America in May 2020, when, after seeing the BLM marching and rioting in the streets, God called him in a dream to leave corporate America and uncover this demonic group and spread the word to many churches.

For nine months Dr. J prepared his heart and soul for his calling. He spent countless hours studying the Word of God, fasting for weeks, and praying. Filled with the Holy Spirit, he was bestowed the gifts of teaching and healing.

He has spent tens of thousands of his own money to publish books, and even pay for the postage to send these prophetic materials to churches all around America.

Dr. J's goal is to educate everyone he can about this demonic BLM movement, as well as teach Christians the uncompromised Truth of the Gospel. He is not afraid of persecution, and to call sin what it is ... sin.
